Foster Nabbed Man At 'Drop of a Hat'

J. H. Foster, Hamlin city marshal, literally nabbed a man at the drop of a hat the other day. And the man he arrested, Early Guinn, Negro from Baytown, is now in Abilene awaiting trial on a burglary charge.

The arrest came because Guinn dropped his hat, Foster said. And then he explained.

Several months ago Foster received a "wanted" notice in which the suspect was described as a "young, bald-headed Negro man." The description stuck in his mind and when Guinn was passing through Hamlin and dropped his hat while getting into a car, Foster immediately remembered the description.

Guinn confessed his part in the burglary of an Abilene cafe more than 16 months ago and implicated another Negro, Foster said.

Five Pay Zones in Boyd Chapel Well

Activity in Boyd Chapel Area Picks Up as New Locations Are Being Made

Oil activity rose to a high pitch in the Boyd Chapel area south of Hamlin this week when the Ungren & Frazier No. 1 Godfrey found its fifth pay zone in the Swastika.

The tool entered the Swastika at 3,290 feet Wednesday night and the hole was drilled to 3,294 when a drillstem test was made.

With penetration of only four feet the drillstem test showed 700 feet of oil with 1,020 pounds pressure on bottom of the hole.

The well previously had found good pay production in the Flippin,

Upper Gunsight, Lower Gunsight, and King sands.

In four out of the five sands encountered in the hole the oil flowed without artificial stimulus.

Dr. W. H. Bryant of Tyler, Texas, a well known operator in the Hamlin area, filed application last week for a permit for an outpost to the Godfrey. The Bryant well will be drilled one half mile west of the discovery well.

Operations on the Bryant test are expected to get underway within two weeks, oilmen said.

The Ellis A. Hall No. 7 hit the Palo Pinto reef at 4,555 feet Wednesday and operators were preparing Thursday to test production. The well is in a proven field and initial tests said production looks good.

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company, Dickey Ferguson No. 1 was down to 2,500 feet Wednesday. The well is slated for Ellenburger production, and is located west of the Ellenburger discovery.

Texas Pacific has staked the No. 1 S. P. Tucker as an outpost to production near the Pardue-Toler wells northwest of Hamlin. The well is scheduled for 4,500 feet.

General Crude Oil Company, No. 5 Y. Flores in the Round Top pool has been completed as an offset to a nearby well. The well flowed 437 barrels of 42.2 gravity oil in 24 hours through quarter inch choke.

Round Top Oil Company, filed location for the No. 5 Merry Bros. & Perini, et al, an offset to production west of Hamlin. The well will go to 5,000 feet.

Max Bennet Funeral To Be Held Friday

Funeral services will be conducted in Lubbock Friday afternoon for Max Bennett, about 35, well known Hamlin rancher, who died in a Galveston hospital Wednesday evening.

Bennett flew to Galveston in his plane and entered the hospital Wednesday of last week. His wife and mother were flown to him last Saturday. Death came at 8:00 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Bennett was a veteran of the recent war, where he served in the navy. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Bernard Bryan and by his widow, Mrs. Catherine Bennett.

Cotton Harvest Gains In Tempo After Rain

Cotton harvest in the Hamlin area picked up again Wednesday following a one-day slow down occasioned by rain Monday night and Tuesday. Both of Hamlin's gins were slowed down by the damp weather.

A total of 1,106 bales of cotton had been ginned in Hamlin prior to Thursday morning, and managers of the two gins said the rate of ginning is being accelerated by the good picking weather.

Music Teacher Gives Program for Lions

C. A. Booher of Dallas, who is in Hamlin this week conducting a school of church music in the First Baptist Church, entertained members of the Lions Club at Tuesday's luncheon.

Booher discussed singing and its effect on people, and demonstrated the proper methods of singing. He led the club in singing several songs. Rev. A. R. Posey, pastor of the church, and Mendal Wharton, educational director of the church, were guests of the club.

Dr. and Mrs. Don Gould and daughters spent last week-end in Walters, Oklahoma, where they attended a family reunion in the home of Mrs. Gould's parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Baker.

Two Buildings To Be Erected By Mrs. Hassen

Preliminary work was started this week on clearing the grounds for erection of two new business buildings in Hamlin, Mrs. B. Hassen, owner of the proposed structures, said.

The buildings will be constructed on the vacant lots immediately north of the Barrow Funeral Home on South Central Avenue.

Site of the new structures has been vacant for more than 12 years when fire destroyed the buildings that formerly occupied the space.

Mrs. Hassen said the buildings will be 25 by 125 feet and will be one story in height. They will be constructed of brick, with plate glass fronts.

Completion of the buildings is expected to be done before December 1, and cost is estimated to be in excess of $12,000.

Plan Board Meeting Postponed for Week

Meeting of the Hamlin Civic Planning Board, which had been set for next Monday evening, has been postponed for one week, I. R. Huchingson, chairman, announced Wednesday.

The meeting was postponed when several members said they could not attend because of other engagements. The meeting will be held Monday evening, October 17, Huchingson said.

Sale of Bonds to Build Stadium

Two Plans Under Consideration for Giving Greater Seating Space at Piper Grid Field

Hamlin school officials this week were considering two plans for increasing the seating capacity of the Piper grid field, and sale of bonds was started to raise funds for adopting whichever plan is finally approved.

The bonds are in the sum of $25 each and will be sold to football fans as a means of raising the needed cash to enlarge the stadium.

The bonds will be redeemed from receipts of football games during the next two years, I. R. Huchingson, superintendent of schools, said.

The bonds will mature December 1, 1952, and will draw five per cent interest Huchingson said.

Need for a larger stadium here was seen in capacity crowds that filled all available seating at the two home games played during the current season.

One of the plans calls for an expenditure of approximately $4,500 and will entail the extension of seats on the east side of the field. It is proposed to raise the stadium by five or six rows of seats in this plan.

Plan No. 2 would call for construction of an entire new stadium on the east side, and is estimated to cost approximately $11,000.

Under plan No. 2 the stadium would consist of 15 rows of seats 180 feet in length. This would provide seating for approximately 1,900 spectators.

Blue prints for the second plan have been drawn and are being studied by school officials.

Meanwhile grid fans are being asked to invest in as many of the $25 bonds as they can purchase to provide the money for improvements.

Billy Sutherland Is Junior Rotarian

Billy Sutherland, a junior in Hamlin High School, and center on the Pied Piper football team, was elected as the first "Junior Rotarian" by the Hamlin Rotary Club. He will attend all meetings of the club during the month of October.

A new member will be selected each month during the school year.

Tom Vaughan was in charge of the program at Wednesday's meeting, and discussed plumbing. He said prices for plumbing are based on three factors. First is type and class of materials; second is type of workmanship, and third is type of fixtures.

Vaughan said property owners should drain their hot water heaters at least once each month to prolong their usefulness, and that gas lines should be tested at least every four years for leaks.

Pipers Face First Loop Test Friday

Anson Tigers Fall Victim to Hamlin Squad In County Seat Battle; Roby Here Friday

Hamlin's rampaging Pied Pipers added the Anson Tigers to their list of victims last week, when the local grid squad rolled over the county seat team by a score of 27 to 0.

The Pipers, flushed with two victories in as many starts, and with their goal line uncrossed during the season, failed to tally against the Tigers in the first two periods of play.

Both teams see-sawed back and forth across the field for the two periods, and it was only the second half that the Pipers began to look like the district threat that they are now conceded to be.

The Pipers, drilled by Coaches Red Burditt and Vernon Townsend during the past week will face their first district test Friday night when they are slated to meet the Roby Lions on Piper field.

The Lions, with a record of four games and four losses this year, are rated as the underdogs in the coming game. Coaches of the Pipers, however, have warned their charges to take nothing for granted in the contest.

Hamlin starting lineup will probably be the same as that for all of the games played this year, Burditt said Wednesday.

In last Friday's game, Joe Allen Dean played outstanding ball in the backfield, and sparked the Pipers to victory over the Tigers.

Asa Goodgame, left end, brought the fans of both teams to their feet in homage to his thrilling play when he took the ball on the kick-off in the second half and raced 80 yards to score the first marker for Hamlin.

In the third period the Tigers had threatened the locals when Jim Thompson took the ball 45 yards to Hamlin's 12-yard line. The Piper line held against repeated thrusts, and the Hamlin players then moved the ball to Anson's 18-yard stripe when the half-time whistle stopped the play.

Hamlin's second score came within three minutes of Goodgame's sensational play. Dean pushed the ball to Anson's 19-yard line and passed to Rowland on the Anson 5. Dean then went across for the score. Hamlin had recovered a Tiger fumble.

Dean's toe was responsible for three points on conversion to give Hamlin the score of 27.

Statistics of the game, as well as the final score indicated a win for the Pipers. Hamlin made 12 first downs to 3 for Anson; the Pipers gained 287 yards rushing, to 87 for Anson; Hamlin passed twice for 29 yards, while the Tigers passed twice for one yard; the Pipers had six penalties for 59 yards while the Tigers were assessed four penalties for 20 yards.

In addition reports will be given on other phases of the hospital operation, and directors will undertake to answer questions asked by any of the stockholders.

All stockholders are urged to attend the meeting, and any other

Mighty Mice to Play Roby Here Thursday

Hamlin's Mighty Mice football team was scheduled to play the Roby gradesters on Piper field Thursday evening, Coach Vernon Townsend said Wednesday.

The Mice crushed the Rotan grade team in a game here last Thursday with a score of 27 to 0.

Hamlin's B team lost to Stamford on the Piper field last Saturday afternoon when the visitors took 20 points to 13 for the Hamlinites. The B team will go to Stamford Saturday afternoon of this week for a return game.

Wilemon Rites Are Held Monday In City Church

Funeral services for R. H. (Buck) Wilemon, well known farmer and stockman of Hamlin, were conducted at 2:30 Monday afternoon in the First Methodist Church.

Dr. Will C. House, pastor of the church, was in charge of the rites. Rev. H. W. Hanks of Hale Center assisted in the service.

Wilemon died at 10:30 Saturday night in the Hamlin Memorial Hospital, where he had been under treatment for several weeks. His condition had been critical for more than 10 days.

Born in Glen Rose, September 24, 1898, Wilemon came to Taylor County in 1909 and spent a short while before he came to Jones County to make his home near Hamlin.

On January 1, 1922 he was married to Martha Cathrine Simpson in Hamlin.

Interested in ranching and farming, Wilemon had been active in promoting rodeos and livestock in this area.

He is survived by his widow; two Mrs. L. V. Davis and Mrs. H. H. Fields, all of Hamlin; his mother, Mrs. P. R. Wilemon of Glen Rose; a brother, Walter Wilemon of Texas City; five sisters, Mrs. High Mason of San Angelo, Mrs. T. E. Bressie, Mrs. W. H. Trippie and Mrs. Marvin Gatewood, all of Fort Worth, and Mrs. Daisy Lall of Glen Rose.

Pallbearers for the funeral were Jack Owens, Ivy Witt, Ralph Hal-Jones, Art Carmichael, Anderson Seymore and Joe Dillingham.

Burial was in the Easy Cemetery, directed by Barrow Funeral Home.

Planning Program Is Set for Cub Scouts

A planning program for Cub Scout work in Hamlin is set for Monday evening, October 10, in the Elementary school cafeteria, O. T. Kelley, chairman of Cub work here, said this week.

The age for Cubs has been lowered recently to eight years, Kelley said, and invited parents of all boys of that age to attend.

Annual roll call of all boys already in the organization will be held, and an official uniform inspection is scheduled for the meeting.

The program for the coming year will be mapped out at the meeting.

Ray Huling Bruised As Car Jack Falls

Ray Huling, operator of a service station at Central Avenue and Lake Drive, suffered painful bruises about the face and shoulders last Thursday in an accident at the station.

Huling was working beneath an automobile when the jack slipped and let the machine fall onto him. He suffered several deep cuts and bruises, but no serious injuries.

To score 300, a bowler rolls only 12 balls.

Congratulations, Oklahoma

The Hamlin Herald congratulates Texas' neighbor to the north for the stinging rebuke administered to the liquor interests in last Tuesday's election. By a majority of almost 50,000 the voters of Oklahoma told the liquor crowd that they wanted their state to remain dry.

Of course there have been loud criticisms levelled at Oklahoma citizens for "voting dry and drinking wet," but most of those come from people who are disappointed because they had an axe to grind in the issue.

The principal argument used both before and after the election was the old canard that "you're going to have liquor, whether legal or illegal, so why not legalize it, tax it and control it?"

That same argument could be used as to why laws against narcotic sales should be repealed. We are going to have dope-heads, and we're going to have sale of dope anyway—so why not remove the bans against it, tax it and control it?

Or, every day people violate the laws against murder, so why not repeal those laws, pass a homicide control act and put a tax on the taking of human life? Laws prohibiting murder are not effective anyway, and the state had as well get some revenue from the killings that occur.

Contrary to the statements expressed by many wets, Oklahoma is not as wet as border states, where liquor sales are legalized. It is true that intoxicants can be bought there—but it is also true that it is a rare thing to see intoxicated persons on public streets there, as is the case in areas where liquor sales are legal.

The Herald congratulates our neighbor to the north on having had the courage to administer a well-deserved rebuke to the liquor interests.

"Robot" Medical Care

The president of the Medical Society of Kings County, New York, reflected the point of view of many thoughtful members of that profession when he said that "revolutionary" schemes for promoting medical security, which are now being advocated by some government officials, nationalized health insurance because "we are fully cognizant that in countries where medical care has been regimented the medical care is not as thorough, that initiative and incentive for medical research has been stymied, and that setting up a costly regimented system will jeopardize the personal relationship of the patient and the physician."

This is not simply a matter of opinion. It has been factually supported time and time again by the records made in various countries where regimented or socialized medicine has been tried. Science does not flower in a political climate.

The case for government health insurance is without a sound foundation. Through the voluntary prepayment plans, millions of people are financially prepared for illness should it come and millions more have this protection available if they wish it. The problem of caring for the fraction of the population which is actually indigent can be handled without creating another bureaucracy, and without taxing us billions a year to pay the cost. Nothing is ever "free" about government medicine—it is always excessively costly, as well as inefficient. The bill which is now being urged would be no exception to the rule.

Money Well Spent

Money pledged to the West Texas Utilities Co., for additional street lights in Hamlin was money well spent by the city council and most Hamlin taxpayers will agree.

For far too many years our city has been dark and dismal at night, with a cluster of lights showing only in the business area. The addition of more than 60 new street lights will make a great difference in appearance of Hamlin to the visitor.

The new lights not only will enhance the appearance of our city, but they will also be effective as a deterrent to pilfering in the areas where they are located.

Cost of the additional lights will be comparatively little in the city's budget, and few will grumble about the expenditure when the lights have been turned on and the pall of night has been further dissipated.

The Herald offers congratulations and commendation to the city council for authorizing this addition.

Blind to Reality

Government Guaranty of Workers' Wishes May Sound Knell of Unions

By MAURICE R. FRANKS

The big cry of the labor leaders today is directed against those workers who accept the benefits of unionism and yet are willing to pay for them through union affiliation.

The Closed Shop question is a good example. The labor leaders have been crying their eyes out before the committees in Washington against those "ingrates" who refuse to join a union under the system of the Closed Shop contract. These leaders take the attitude that it is just not fair for a man to be so selfish as to accept working conditions made possible through unionism without paying his way. "Free riders" is the term they apply to these non unionists.

Now it is not my intention to air the points for or against the Closed Shop. Such would require a lengthy discourse in itself. I wish merely to point out the inconsistency of this expression, "free riders"—and at the same time to show up the stupidity of our sobbing labor leaders who are themselves the greatest promoters of the "free ride."

For instance the present steel controversy. No sooner had this started than the labor leaders packed their bags and headed straight for Washington. Their demand was that the President set up a fact-finding board to determine for them the status of the industry.

Further to this piece of governmental interference, let's take the minimum wage law. The labor leaders are today jubilant over the success they have thus far scored in the attainment of a guaranteed 75-cent-an-hour minimum.

At the rate the legalistic machinery is whirling down at Washington it won't be long now before the American workingman will be guaranteed by law everything his little heart desires. The labor leaders are working overtime, with the help of their attorneys, to find ways and means of enacting legislation that will guarantee to the workers for all time to come security from the cradle to the grave. If they are successful in the future as in the past, it will be only a matter of time when there will be nothing left for the unions to bargain for. Everything will have been secured by government statute.

If and when this comes to pass, there won't it seem to me, be much need for unions and union leaders. I know, as far as I for one am concerned—if I were a steel worker or a carpenter and could get by guarantee from my government top wages, short hours, and all-around good working conditions—that I should soon regard myself as just a plain darned fool to go on paying union dues for services already rendered me by law; and I wouldn't care a hoot whether they called me a "free rider" or not. Nor is it likely that I'd be alone in my attitude. For certainly it doesn't sound logical that anyone who could on a pass—and that's all these laws amount to—would feel inclined to come up with a superfluous cash fare.

Unless and until our labor leaders are content to travel the road of collective bargaining—dealing directly with the employer on all matters affecting the occupation—unionism as we know it today will become a dead issue, a thing of the past—because there will be little, if anything, left to bargain for.

If the government is to establish itself as the sole bargaining agent of the workers, as seems to be the desire of so many of our present crop of labor leaders, the unions will go broke and slip out of the national picture—for the very simple reason that workers will refuse to pay dues for that which is already guaranteed to them, not by union contract, if you please, but by law, union or no union.

What the whole thing sums up to is this: Our union leaders, by their over-enthusiasm for governmental interference with their own legitimate affairs are simply digging their own graves. For common sense tells us that no need exists for ticket sellers when ALL in the bus are FREE RIDERS.

One person I have to make good: myself. But my duty to my neighbor is much more nearly expressed by saying that I have to make him happy—if I may. —Robert Louis Stevenson.

Lessons From Plato, Franklin Are Needed if Republic Is to Survive

By GEORGE PECK

There seems to be nothing new about the drive to propel this nation into a socialistic dictatorship, nor about the methods that are being used by the political planners to bring a free, proud and prosperous American people to a condition of servitude, servility and poverty. If you doubt that statement, please read what Plato, the eminent Greek philosopher, had to say in the 4th Century, B. C., on the subject of champions of the people, tyranny and high taxes:

"The people have always some champion whom they set over them and nurse into greatness. This and no other is the root from which a tyrant springs; when he first appears he is a protector. In the early days of his power he is full of smiles, and he salutes every one whom he meets.

"When the tyrant has disposed of his foreign enemies by conquest or treaty, and there is nothing to fear from them, then he is always stirring up some war or other, in order that the people may require a leader.

"Has he not another object which is that they may be impoverished by payment of taxes and thus compelled to devote themselves to their daily wants and, therefore, less likely to conspire against him?"

The foregoing sounds as though Plato, 2300 years ago, when he made those remarks regarding taxes, was indulging in a bit of prophecy regarding present day conditions in the United States of America. Are the reckless governmental spending, the plans for even more profligate spending, and the exorbitant taxes just part of a carefully calculated plot to keep the average American citizen so busy and harassed that he cannot muster up the necessary energy to wage a successful fight against the demagogues? Is it possible that the political planners who infest the nation's capital have "PLANNED IT THAT WAY?"

Small wonder it is that thinking Americans are gravely concerned about the future of this nation. These patriots cannot be catalogued as panicky alarmists for having serious doubts that "The American Way" can survive through that dangerous phase which, sooner or later, every republic has experienced—that inexplicable period when the citizenry becomes surfeited with liberty, soft with luxury and weary opportunity and responsibility.

After the Founding Fathers had drawn up our glorious Constitution, Benjamin Franklin was asked what the lengthy deliberations had brought forth. He replied: "A republic if we can keep it." Shortly thereafter in a letter to a friend he made this further comment: "Our constitution is in actual operation; everything appears to promise that it will last; but in this world nothing is certain but death and taxes."

Wise old Ben believed that with the drawing up of our Constitution a framework had been erected upon which a free and prosperous nation could be built. How right he was!

For a century and a half we have by that Constitution and just Franklin's judgement.

But Franklin had read history and he had a keen understanding of human nature. That is why expressed doubt that we could keep our Republic. History had revealed to him the many nations that have been wrecked on the rocks of the inevitable that, sooner or later, demagogues would arise in the land who would bid for support of the masses by promising large group special economic and social advantages—who would practice the trick almost as old as time itself, of playing the "have-nots" against the "haves."

Oh! for a 20th Century Plato or Benjamin Franklin to lead this nation out of the "something-for-nothing" morass in which it is floundering, back to the high, dry ground of individual toil and accomplishment that made us the strongest, most free and most prosperous nation in all world history.

Elmer G. Johnson, President of Harlingen State Bank, Harlingen, Texas, writes, on February 20, 1948: "Please send another bottle of Liquid Garlic, also send a bottle to my sister-in-law, Mrs. Hulda C. Dutton, 45 Atwater Terrace, Springfield, Massachusetts.

"I have some good reports to make on the effectiveness of garlic used. Mr. Turner, Texaco dealer here has taken two bottles and is much better, his blood pressure down about 60 points. Mrs. W. F. Nelson, of San Benito, who was in bad shape, is also very much better and her blood pressure down considerably. This Garlic works, and you are doing a fine job of producing it for benefit of those suffering from high blood pressure or heart trouble."

Uniforms Decried World War II Vets

Proper uniforms for World War II veterans in the Armistice Day parade in Hamlin was decried by the committees in charge of arrangements, contrary to a story in the Hamlin Herald last week.

Only veterans of the first world war will be privileged to wear civilian clothes, officials of the VFW and American Legion said.

The error in last week's Herald said all veterans would be invited to parade in either uniforms or civvies.

Whooping Cough Is Preventable By Vaccination

Now is the time to have your baby protected from whooping cough, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer said. The Texas State Department of Health recommends that vaccination against this disease be administered at three months of age with a booster dose of vaccine when the baby is two years old. There is many a child whose life could have been saved if he had been immunized in infancy, said Dr. Cox.

"Whooping cough," said Dr. Cox, "first masquerades as an ordinary cold, with running nose and eyes, followed by a slight cough. These symptoms develop about 1 to 14 days after exposure. Then in about another week the cough develops into a series of continued attacks. In an effort to expel the trouble-breath during the spell produces the characteristic whooping sound. In mild cases it may be absent. The whooping stage lasts 4 to 6 weeks and may then take another two or three weeks to decline gradually.

"Here are some facts about whooping cough:

1. The disease starts like a common cold, 1 to 14 days after exposure. In about another week the cough develops and the whooping usually begins.
2. It is one of the communicable diseases children often catch at school. After a child has reached the age of five, fatalities occur less frequently. Children may carry this disease home to babies.
3. Most important of all is to see that infants are vaccinated against whooping cough, for most deaths occur among children less than one

Acute tonsillitis is frequently, though not always, due to a streptococcus infection. It may cause great discomfort and can be quite serious. The danger lies not only in the fact the infection from the diseased tonsils may spread to other parts of the body, but also to the fact that the body, weakened by tonsillitis, may have its resistance to other diseases lowered.

Aching pains and chills and fever often accompany acute tonsillitis. The temperature may rise considerably, and may be accompanied by chills. At the same time, the throat will be sore and difficulty will be experienced in swallowing. The tonsils become inflamed and enlarged.

Since the discovery of the sulfa drugs and penicillin, it has become easier to bring tonsillitis under control quickly. However, only the doctor knows how these drugs should be used in an individual case.

After the acute stage of the disease is passed, it is usually advisable for the patient to continue to rest for several days. The doctor will tell him when it is safe for him to go about his normal duties again. Until he has regained his strength completely, his resistance is lowered and he may fall easy prey to other diseases.

The doctor may advise having the tonsils removed after an attack of tonsillitis. The operation is never performed until the patient recovers from an attack, but it may be advisable then in order to avoid future attacks. Tonsilectomy is very

State Gives Approval For Anson Hospital

Approval for construction of a hospital in Anson, long a dream of county seat civic leaders, was given this week by the State Board of Health in Austin.

The hospital is scheduled to be a 30-bed institution and will cost $225,000. The federal government will pay $75,000 of the amount and remainder of the cost will be borne by Anson.

It is planned to raise the funds by a bond issue, which will be put before the voters late this month.

In 1946 a county-wide bond election for construction of a city-county hospital in Anson failed by a vote of 1,502 to 1,455.

common operation today and there should be no hesitation about having it performed if the doctor so advises.

If there is an infantile paralysis epidemic in the community, the doctor may suggest postponing removal of the tonsils, unless condition is so serious it outweighs the remote possibility of danger from polio. The doctor is the best judge of the hazards involved.

Harmless Skin Test Will Reveal Presence of TB Germs in System

In many communities throughout the country, children entering school for the first time are offered "tuberculin tests," simple tests to detect whether or not a child has tuberculosis germs in his body.

Some parents are inclined to view the tuberculin test with alarm, mainly because they are not understand the purpose of the test. They may object because they falsely believe that tuberculin test is harmful. Others think that if a child's skin reacts a certain way, the reaction means a definite diagnosis of tuberculosis.

Actually, the tuberculin test is a harmless skin sensitivity test which tells only whether or not tuberculosis germs are in a person's body. It does nothing more than that. And even if it shows the presence of tuberculosis germs, it does not necessarily mean that the person has tuberculosis. It does mean the person has been exposed to the disease at some time and should have a chest X-ray and other tests to find out whether he has tuberculosis.

Tuberculin is a sterile fluid made up of a liquid in which tuberculosis germs were grown. When a small amount of the tuberculin is applied to or injected into the skin of a person who has tuberculosis germs, the area of skin treated becomes red and raised in about two days. This "reaction" takes place because the presence of tuberculosis germs in the body makes the tissues, including the skin, sensitive to a certain products produced by the germs.

When there is no skin reaction it means that the person, at that time, does not have tuberculosis germs in his body.

When a child reacts positively to the tuberculin test, whether or not he has tuberculosis, the doctor knows that he has been in contact with a person who has tuberculosis. Efforts are then made to find the person among the child's family and associates who has the disease. When he is found, he is urged to take steps to get prompt treatment before his disease becomes more difficult to cure and before he spreads his germs to others.

Tech Enrollment Dips As Veterans Drop Out

Decreased enrollment has accounted for a slight drop in the student population at Texas Technological college, according to Miss Evelyn Clewell, assistant registrar.

Miss Clewell said 5,716 students are now enrolled, compared with 6,145 in the 1948-49 semester. A decline in freshman enrollment also figured in the over-all picture.

She attributed the drop to the low 1930-34 birth rate (youngsters born then are just getting out of high school), and the change-over in the Texas secondary school system which added an extra year in public school grades. The switch delayed college enrollment for thousands of young Texans until next fall.

A LASTING MEMORIAL

In honor of the men and women from the Hamlin area who gave their lives during the time of the national emergency of either World War, the--

HAMLIN MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Was built and is being operated as a living, daily reminder to those of us who were more fortunate of the sacrifice made in those conflicts.

Did you lose a son, a father, a brother or a sister overseas during World War I or World War II? If you did, and if you live in the Hamlin trade area, we want the name of your loved one placed on our memorial plaque.

Or, do you know of some friend who gave his life in either of those conflicts, and whose name does not appear on the plaque? We would like to have all names of the Hamlin area war dead for this memorial. If survivors of those who are gone will give permission we plan to include the name of every individual from this vicinity who failed to return to his native land.

The Hamlin VFW Post is making a final, determined effort to obtain this information, and we are asking for your assistance. The only way we can be sure that no name has been overlooked is for relatives and friends of the war dead to give us information.

West Texas' Fight for Water to Get Top Billing At Reclamation Hearing

The need of water in West Texas now has top billing in the Bureau of Reclamation of the Department of Interior and the biggest show of its kind will be held in Fort Worth, Tuesday, Nov. 22.

J. A. Krug, secretary of the Department of Interior, has accepted an invitation of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to speak at its annual banquet there on that date. The WTCC has promised to have one thousand water-thirsty West Texans there to hear him, along with Reclamation Commissioner Nathan Strauss and Senator Lyndon Johnson.

This, the annual meeting of the WTCC board of directors, will climax the year's work of the organization in defining water needs of this area, and establishing economic loss through lack of water companion to flood loss.

"The federal government will learn how badly West Texas needs water at this meeting," WTCC President John D. Mitchell said in reporting the plans to his executive board in session here this week. "We have been sitting over waterholes with Winchesters or fighting to keep our domestic water rights in West Texas for a long time."

"This is a program to develop new water, a program so big it can only be handled in a big way and that's what we are doing in bringing in a man at cabinet level here to hear our story and tell us what the federal government can do to protect our economic loss from lack of water."

The WTCC has a nominal board of approximately 200 among its 6,000 membership in the 132 county area, but the organization hopes to take interested officials from all the towns to help the water cause, according to Manager D. A. Banderen.

Already the Bureau of Reclamation has authorized three West Texas surveys under the direction of Harry P. Burleigh, state planning engineer, according to Banderen. One will provide for all the area on the Brazos river shed above Possum Kingdom and below the Caprock; another is on the Colorado above the mouth of Pecan Bayou, while the other under authorization is a survey of the Prairie Dog creek area and tributaries of the Red river in the Memphis-Childress area.

These are in addition to the $85 million Canadian project already approved by the Bureau, to supply water to a dozen West Texas towns between Borger and Lamesa.

Mrs. J. H. Foster went to Dallas last Friday where she is a guest of relatives.

Mary Carter directed the guests into the dining room, and into the bedroom where the gifts were on display. The dining room was decorated in yellow and green, chosen colors of Miss Huling. The tea table was laid with a white lace cloth. A crystal punch bowl was surrounded by yellow asters. Yellow candles stood on each end of the table, and tiny silver bells gave the wedding date.

Mrs. Billy Joe Wilson and Miss Joanne Johnson presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. O. G. Harvey said the goodbyes.

Miss Huling and Ruth will be married in Wichita Falls Saturday, October 8.

Hostesses for the tea were Beverly Harvey, Joanne Johnson, Mary Carter and Mrs. Euell Carter.

The Rev. J. T. Bolding read the double ring ceremony after Mrs. Morris Ward sang "Always" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" with Mrs. J. A. Wright as accompanist. Mrs. Wright played the traditional wedding march and "Clair De Lune" during the ceremony.

Miss Viola Ward and Miss Eudora Pierson, cousins of the bride, served the cake and punch.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso and other points in New Mexico the couple will live at 605 South 9th St., Slaton.

Seriousness of Scarlet Fever Revealed by Cox

Scarlet fever is one of the most disabling and dangerous diseases usually associated with childhood, although actually it is confined to no age limit, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. While only six cases were reported in the state during the week ending September 24, it brought the year's total to 911 cases.

The doctor described scarlet fever as an acute infectious disease, the onset of which is sudden. The first symptoms including sore throat, vomiting, fever, and headache, may appear in three to five days after exposure. These are followed by the distinctive red rash which gives this disease its name, Dr. Cox said.

Complications may cause prolonged disability or death. Children suffering with scarlet fever may develop sinusitis and middle-ear infection which can lead to mastoiditis.

As the germs spread through the child's system, the points, kidneys, and heart may become involved, causing lifelong invalidism or crippling.

"A child with any kind of a sore throat should be seen by the family physician promptly," Dr. Cox asserted. "If scarlet fever is present, the treatment recommended will do much to alleviate discomfort and reduce the possibility of serious complications."

Dr. Cox said that children under ten years of age are most susceptible, and that those persons who fail to contract scarlet fever until grown stand an excellent chance of never having the disease.
